

Anne Franciose Perrault

Soloist, Collaborative Pianist, and Master Teacher

Pianist and teacher Anne Franciose Perrault served as Chair of Longy School of Music Piano Department in Cambridge MA from 1994-2000. She was previously on the music faculties of New England Conservatory, the University of Vermont, and St. Michael's College in Vermont.

She holds a Bachelor of Music degree from Oberlin Conservatory of Music and a Master of Music degree from New England Conservatory. She pursued additional studies at the prestigious Mozarteum in Salzburg, Austria.

Ms. Perrault's versatile performance career as soloist and collaborative pianist has taken her to concert halls in this country and Germany, Austria, and Switzerland. Her performances have included the Beethoven Piano Concerti with both the New England Philharmonic and Vermont Philharmonic, Bartok's Concerto for Two Pianos and Percussion and Rachmaninoff's Second Piano Concerto with the New England Conservatory Orchestra. She has also collaborated with international artists such as Paul Mathen, Robert Honeysucker, D'Anna Fortunato, Ron Lowry, and members of the Boston Symphony Orchestra. She has often been a guest on WGBH, Boston. Critics have acclaimed her playing as "masterful, with superb artistry and technique."

For more information, please visit <http://www.annefrancioseperrault.com>, or contact Ms. Franciose Perrault at annepro@comcast.net.